The social committee of the Congregational church for June entertained the ladies of the church yesterday afternoon, from three to six o'clock, at the home of Mrs. E. B. Pratt, 561 North Church street. The house and grounds were pleasantly decorated with out flowerings and potted plants. During the afternoon Miss Lou Bear delighted the company with instrumental music, and Mrs. Geo. B. Bacon read extracts from Helen Hunt's talks. Afterwards elegant refreshments were served. The committee in charge were Miss W. Slater, Miss M. A. Pratt, Miss Abbie Pratt, assisted by Miss Mary Coffey and Miss Nettie Childs. There was quite a large attendance and the occasion was a very pleasant one.

Of the Business We Do.

We every day find that the former patrons of the old store of Herriss & Lapham are glad that this store is open to business again. The people know that if the present stock was bought at 50 cents on the dollar
it is bound to be sold cheap. The retail shoe store in this stand has been one of the marked business successes of the business retail world in Decatur. We have a knowledge of the business and an appreciation of what the people want. We have the facilities for get-

FUNERAL OF MRS. BUCHANAN.

Impressive Services Yesterday at the Shupp Residence on West Wood Street.

The last rites over the remains of the late Celia Shupp Buchanan, whose death occurred at her home in Zanesville, O., were held yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of deceased's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Shupp, No. 838 West Wood street. The family home was crowded by the large number of friends and relatives in attendance, and the services were very impressive.

Rev. W. H. Penhalligon, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, did not take a text but discoursed eloquently upon the life of the deceased and of her many womanly qualities. It was a fitting tribute to the departed. The choir, composed of Misses Keeler and Van Stone, and Messrs. Chilson and Brown, sang several appropriate selections, among them "Rock of Ages" and "Come, Ye Disconsolate." The pallbearers were: W. O. Ballard, H. Boyer, B. L. Howenstein, Davis May, A. J. Davidson and A. T. Summers. The honorary pallbearers were: Misses Eva Bish, Sophia Hall, Jack, Carrie Kearns, Emma Pritch, Stella Wiswell and Mrs. Bert Merriweather. The interment took place at Greenwood cemetery.

POOR LUCK.

Fishermen Complain of the Contrariness of the Fluky Tribe.

Lovers of sport with the rod who have tried the experiment of fishing in the rivers and creeks in this vicinity report unusually poor luck, the fish absolutely refusing to bite. This is contrary to expectations, as the high waters in the early spring gave the fish a splendid opportunity to run from the Mississippi and Illinois rivers into their smaller tributaries. An experienced fisherman says it is the natural result of the frequent heavy rains which have prevailed all through the season. Large quantities of insects and other articles of fish diet have been washed into the stream at intervals, and the fish find plenty to eat without taking the chance with baited hook. In fact they are fat, saucy and independent. There are plenty of fish, but few of them will get hungry before September. A few weeks of drought would make good fishing.

A NEW DECISION.

Women Who Ministered to Wounded Soldiers are Entitled to Pensions.

Assistant-Secretary Reynolds of the interior department has made a pension decision which will be welcome news to a large number of women who ministered to wounded soldiers in hospitals during the late war. They are to be placed upon the pension rolls. The question arose upon a communication from the commissioner of pensions as to whether those women who superintended the diet of the sick and wounded soldiers were entitled to pensions under the provisions of the act commonly known as the "nurses' act." The beneficiaries of this decision are mainly women who were sent by the United States Christian commission to hospitals for the purpose of superintending the special diet kitchens of the same upon the request of the surgeon-general.

Life in Monticello County.

Neil Woodcock and Addie Lane, of Sullivan, were to have been married last week, but a few hours before the time for which the nuptials were set, the intended groom had a legal wife in Indiana. This so enraged the intended mother-in-law that she unceremoniously chastised the intended groom, and the last seen of him he was hunting a hospital. Such is life in Sullivan.

Henry J. Greer and Mary J. Meisenbauer were married at Evansville, Ind., last week. The most peculiar thing about the affair is that the parties have lived at Lovington, Ill., for thirty years as husband and wife, and have a large family of children, three of whom are married. They were highly respected, but some rumors got on their track and the exposure resulted in their arrest for fornication and adultery. A Lovington justice acquitted them of the charges, but they were afraid the grand jury might be more severe so they went to Evansville and were happily married.

New Civil Service Change.

A new ruling has been made regarding the examination of applicants for the postal service of the United States. Formerly the applicants were divided into two grades with an examination for each grade. Under the new ruling there will be but two grades, clerk and carrier, and but one examination for the two grades. Another provision is made in regard to the age of applicants. The minimum heretofore has been 18 years, but it was found that applicants of this age were not competent, as a rule, even though they passed the examination. The age is now made 18 years up, with no maximum for clerks and 21 to 40 years for carriers.

THE CLOSE OF SCHOOL.

Children Entertained Yesterday by Their Teachers.

The kindergarten closes of Mrs. R. J. Simpson and Mrs. William Brown, who gave a picnic yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Brown on South Main street. Those present were Maria Meyer, June Ewing, Harvey Stedler, Willie Penhalligon, Corinne, Lucile Towne, Mary and Robert Taggart, Grace Barnes, Beanie Downer, Alberta Barnes, Edgar Bachrach, Ruth Roberts, Marie and Ada Mae Starr, Ralph Baldwin, Ralph and Everett McBride, Helen Somers, Claire Hutchins, Amy Wilson, George Prescott, Harry Ehrman, Howard Fick, Ruth Atterbury, Allie O'Dane, Jessie Bundy, Kenneth and Emory Wood, Earle Heiser, Helen Hoggins, Emily Powers, Nellie Gleason, Fred Kline, Bruce Cello, Judith and Ida Mills, Beadie Conover, Ethel Baldwin, Emma Bone, Florence Jones, Jessie Penhalligon, Otis Wamley and Eliza Imboden.

Yesterday was the third birthday of little Don Ope and in honor of the event he gave a party to his kindergarten class at Mrs. Ackerman's kindergarten school, 1004 West Main street. It was also the closing of the kindergarten for the summer vacation. The little ones were charmingly entertained by Mrs. Ackerman and Mrs. A. H. Ope. The day was pleasantly spent in games and music. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served. Each of the little ones received a pretty souvenir consisting of booklets with the class motto, "We Learn Through Doing," written in. Those present were: George Allison, Lura Kinman, Alberta Barnes, Dean Alexander, Gertrude Danrow, Edith Martin, Isaac Shellebarger, Hall, Heston Lander, Mary Hostetter, Howard Handley, Marguerite Potter, Walter May, Edith Cope, Zelma Liston, Mott Liston, Alice Dempsey, Gladys Kuntz, Zelma Davidson, Lettie Kuntz, Walter Cope, Virgil Cope, Donald Cope, Robbie Tullis, Ned Wheeler, Cal Biler, Ned Owens, Ethel Carter.

HATHAWAY'S VICTORY.

How the Decatur Mare Downed the String at Peoria.

The free-for-all trot at the Peoria races for the purse of $500 was the hottest go of the week, and Fownes Bros' Hathaway got to the front. The Journal describes the race as follows:

For the third heat the horses were sent off well together, and a more exciting race is but seldom seen than this heat proved to be. Hathaway broke when about half way around the turn, and Wilkes went to the front. Belle Wilson broke before she had made a dozen strides and a moment later Louisville followed her example and the two fell back several lengths. The mare, however, soon settled down and made an honest effort to redeem herself, but the pace was too rapid for her, and the best she could do was to secure third place. Hathaway, when he had found his feet, settled down to work, and went after Wilkes with the determination to beat him out. At the half the mare was less than four lengths behind, but Wilkes was making the pace very lively, gaining a length before the end of the stretch was reached, but here the mare quickened her pace, and when the stretch was reached, less than two lengths separated them. It was a grand race, and the crowd cheered the victory to the echo—2-23 1/2.

The fourth heat proved the last one, for the mare was never once headed after the word was given. Wilkes tried hard to beat her but the task was greater than he could perform under the circumstances, and when he reached the stretch he abandoned all hope of winning, and gave his attention to securing second place.

Bongoned.

James Wessons, one of the oldest of all the Wabash passenger conductors, has resigned his position. Last fall, "Uncle James," as everyone knows him, went to Peoria to remain several months and since that time he has not been at work. Although he has been home several months it was only a few days ago that he tendered his resignation. In spite of his years he is still a well preserved and hale old man. His run on the main line day trains, 44 and 45, will fall to Conductor Joe Vasconcellos, who is now on trains 42 and 43, the night trains between Danville and St. Louis. Conductor Tom Hawkins, who is now on the Champagne-Danville accommodation, will succeed Vasconcellos on trains 42 and 43. Conductor C. A. Welch, who has been temporarily on main-line trains 44 and 45, will succeed Conductor A. O'Brien on the Cannon Ball train. These changes were made to-day.
